

Women in Auto Trades

These women completed the first Women in Auto Trades, industry supported pre-apprenticeship course for women.

For the automotive industry this is the first step in bringing about change in our industry by opening the door to careers in automotive for these young women. It is also a demonstration of the automotive industries capacity and willingness in engaging in collaboration with vocational education, to provide an introductory pathway for all women to accept the challenge of taking up a career in automotive.
